A Railroad to Russia.

New York, July 18.—"They can talk about my uncle as visit my and a mild lunatic all they please, but the day will come and it is not far off, either, when he will be recognized as a thoroughly sensible or a bird engineer."

So said Wm. Henry Gilpin of Pueblo, Colorado, at the Hoffman House this evening. Gilpin has been for the last two years with his uncle, Wm. Gilpin, ex-Governor of Colorado, on a tour of reconnaissance on the Northern Pacific Coast. William Gilpin believes that no serious obstacle is in the way of building a railroad which shall join the United States and Russia by way of Behring Strait, Siberia, Alaska and British America.

"The only apparent difficulty," said he, "is in crossing Behring Strait, but this difficulty is only apparent. The strait is only 40 miles wide, and in its middle lies an island about big enough to hold New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City combined. The water is nowhere more than 40 feet deep, and there will be no trouble in erecting piers on the hard bottom."
